

THE BAPTISM OF THE LORD

After all the people had been baptized and Jesus also had been baptized and was praying, heaven was opened and the Holy Spirit descended upon him in bodily form like a dove. - Lk 3:21-22a tend to the sick and the suffering? All the questions point to the Answer, who is Christ, who is God, who is Love.

FR. BOB'S WEEKLY BLOG

Allow me to thank so many of you who were exceptionally generous this Christmas season; whether it be your time, your treasure or your talent. Our annual Giving Tree was a great success. Many people in need were able to receive gifts for Christmas because of you. The Gift (Jesus) worked through you for the sake of others. That's love in action.

Allow me to also thank those who were generous to Fr. Kevin and I with cards, gifts, candy and food. It is humbling for us when we realize people care for us. Most people see their priest at Holy Mass once a week.

The priest, however, is helping people encounter God's grace in one-on-one conversations (occasionally about a difficult matter), when we do anointings of the sick, when we hear confessions, when we preside at a funeral or wedding, when we visit the school children in the classroom, etc., etc.. Although Fr. Kevin and I are both flawed, imperfect men, we also know Who we represent and Who is working in and through us as His ordained ministers, and it is humbling. Your generosity toward us is greatly appreciated.

Believe it or not, the good Lord works in and through you. Our outward generosity for others extends beyond the Christmas season. We are called to be the Lord's instruments in the here and now of this life. We do not need to travel halfway across the world to share God's love. We engage the mission at any given moment in our sphere of influence. This sphere of influence is the 20-feet around you at any given moment. If there is a need within your sphere of influence, fill the need as best you are able.

St. Vincent de Paul wrote, "Charity is certainly greater than any rule. Moreover, all rules must lead to charity."

What amazing words of wisdom from one of our canonized saints. The English word charity comes from the Latin word caritas, which means love. When we are authentically charitable toward a fellow human being, we are, in fact, loving. The Why (Jesus) of our charity is working in and through us to help a human being in need; whether it be a family member, a fellow parishioner, a coworker, or a total stranger. Love triumphs!

Stay close to the Sacred Heart of Jesus, no matter what happens in our world; no matter how dark things might seem. Stay close to the Lord. Hold his nail-marked hand. Don't let go. He will carry us through the cross, through suffering and death, into Eternal Life. That's his promise. Do not be afraid.

Quote -- "If we have no peace, it is because we have forgotten that we belong to each other." -- Mother Teresa

This Sunday concludes the Christmas season as we celebrate the Baptism of the Lord.

Charles Dickens wrote in A Christmas Carol, "I will honor Christmas in my heart, and try to keep it all the year. I will live in the Past, the Present, and the Future. The spirits of all three shall strive within me, I will not shut out the lessons that they teach."

We, too, as Christian disciples, keep the true meaning of Christmas in our heart all the year, and the true meaning of Christmas is the Gift of Jesus, the Savior of the world. The true meaning of the Nativity of the Lord is the Incarnation; the enfleshment of God in the Person of Jesus.

The intentional and unintentional secularization of Christmas has moved too many folks away from this truth. This has left the holy season being more about warm fuzzies, holly jolly, magic, and consumerism, instead of the mystery of our salvation. The Second Person of the Holy Trinity came intimately into this world not to live, but to die so that we might have life in him. This is the good news.

Jesus is the WHY of our charity. Why do we feed the hungry? Why do we care for the poor? Why do we work to shelter the homeless? Why do we

FR. KEVIN'S GREGORIAN RANTS

We resume our exploration of the Nicene Creed by getting back to examining the relationship of the Father and the Son. The council Fathers really wanted to hammer home what it meant for Jesus to be the only-begotten Son who was not created by the Father, but shared with him in all things. So, we get some insight into the nature of his begetting. The Son is "God from God, light from light, true God from true God, begotten, not made".

The Father shares everything with the Son except his identity as Father. He loves the Son with the fullness of a father and ensures that he is lacking in nothing. In receiving everything from the Father, the Son is able to show his own identity as Son. These are relational titles; they don't make sense without each other. They are the same in nature and essence, but distinct in relation to each other.

Light is strongly associated with the God who creates. It is God's first utterance in the book of Genesis, "Let there be light," and we hear that through those words, light came into existence. Light returns again and again in relation to God and his people, especially in the Psalms and the book of Isaiah. We just heard on Christmas, "The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light; those who dwelt in a land of deep darkness, on them has light shone." [Is 9:2].

The Gospel of John picks up on the theme of light and darkness, speaking of Jesus as the true light, which gives light to all, that came into the world [Jn 1:9]. Later he speaks of himself as the "the light of the world," and that all who follow him will not walk in darkness, but will have the light of life. [Jn 8:12]. This light comes from the Father and is shared with the Son. There is no light that the Father has that is hidden from the Son or is not revealed by him. The Son was sent to restore this light that was originally given to creation; he is able to restore it because he has that same light as the Father.

The Creed doubles down on Jesus being "true God". The Son has the same divine nature as the Father. He is other than the Father but shares fully with the Father, and they remain as one God. Jesus is not only like God in appearance, but actually is of the same essential nature as God. By taking on a human nature, the Son did not lose or compromise any of his divinity.

Also, the council Fathers were speaking against the beliefs of the Roman Empire. Starting with Julius Caesar, the Roman emperor was considered the son of the gods. Inscriptions about Caesar Augustus, the emperor at the time of Christ's birth, spoke of this: "Emperor Caesar Augustus, son of god; Emperor Caesar, god from god; Emperor Caesar Augustus, savior and benefactor." Christians knew that the emperor was no son of God, because they saw him as a limited man who didn't have the true power to save. Recognizing Jesus as the "true God" meant that they pledged their lives to Christ, not the emperor. This is echoed by the centurion who witnessed Jesus' death on the cross: "Surely this man (and therefore not Caesar) is the Son of God." [Mk 15:39]

All of this might seem like overkill by the council Fathers. We might want to throw up our hands and say, "Ok, we get it, Jesus is God!" Their insistence, however, speaks to the threat widespread Arianism posed on the Christian world. Again, if Jesus is not fully God and fully man, his salvific work on the cross is for naught. We might take it for granted today, but it is thanks to those who fought for Jesus' true identity that we can so confidently affirm and trust in it today.

Parents are welcome to ask any questions they may have concerning this momentous occasion.

In addition, at the very end of our retreat everyone will have the opportunity to view the film "Grandma's Bread".
