FR. BOB'S WEEKLY BLOG

up in the economic hamster wheel of production and consumption and we lose sight of the greater “why” of life, and the greater “why” of life is Love (capital L), and God is Love.

The Old Catechism summed it up quite well. Why did God create us? God made us to know Him, to love Him, and to serve Him in this world and to be happy with Him forever in the next.

To know God means more than mere intellectual knowledge. To know involves intimacy. This is also a matter of the heart. A young student could get an A+ on a religion class exam and yet never have prayed; never have spent heart-to-heart time with God. When we truly get “to know” God, we allow our Love for God to move us toward service.

Friends, our time in this world is brief.

Cherish each day. Live for Love. Keep things in perspective. Serve God and serve others.

Last Sunday, Fr. Ed Cronin died suddenly. He was the pastor at St. Jane de Chantel (now St. Faustina) for many years and the pastor of St. Alexander in Palos Heights. Prior to my entering the seminary, Fr. Cronin let me live at St. Al's for six months. He was very supportive of me and always gracious to me.

Fr. Cronin was preaching the homily during Mass (the Solemnity of the Most Holy Body & Blood of Christ), when he suffered a massive heart attack.

Attempts to resuscitate him were unsuccessful. He died in the sanctuary of a church in Sawyer, Michigan.

May Edward Cronin rest in God's peace and may we all live our remaining days on earth with our hearts on fire in radical amazement for God and for God's creation. Keep Rabbi Heschel's quote about radical amazement nearby for those days when you lose sight of the big picture.

Grand Raffle Update

Thank you to everyone who has participated in our Two Holy Martyrs Parish Grand Raffle.

This Grand Raffle is exceptionally important this year; a result of the suspension of Family Fest. Quick reminder, Family Fest is NOT permanently cancelled. There is always the potential to bring Fest back should various conditions change, and we discover 3-4 people who want to help run Family Fest.

The proceeds from the Grand Raffle will be used to pay out to the various raffle winners as well as being used for various parish expenses. Some of our ticket sellers have told me they get asked “Where's the money going?” This question is asked with honest curiosity, but it is also asked, at times, in a rather untrusting suspicious tone.

One thing you learn quickly as a pastor are the economics of parish life. Just because we are a church does not mean we are exempt from the cost of doing earthly business. The funds raised from the Grand Raffle are for parish use. A cut of the profit does not get sent “downtown” or to the Vatican. Our current Two Holy Martyrs Parish expenses are, on average, $114,000 per month (this includes payroll and benefits). That helps put things in perspective.

The Grand Raffle is a PARISH fundraiser for parish costs/expenses.

Thank you for your participation in the raffle, and for helping sell raffle tickets to friends and family. There is still time to buy tickets and to sell tickets.

Quote -- “Dear Lord, grant me the grace of wonder. Surprise me, amaze me, awe me in every crevice of your universe. Each day enrapture me with your marvelous things without number.”

One of my favorite authors is Abraham Joshua Heschel.

His writings invite the reader to live in radical amazement of all things, and his writing summons us to live in the mystery of God.

Rabbi Heschel was born in Warsaw, Poland, and he is considered one of the leading Jewish theologians and Jewish philosophers of the Twentieth Century.

This man had his pulse on God and on the human condition.

Here is one of his more popular quotes: “Our goal should be to live in radical amazement. ... Get up in the morning and look out at the world that takes nothing for granted. Everything is phenomenal; everything is incredible; never treat life casually. To be spiritual is to be amazed.”

Rabbi Heschel did not allow theological differences to obscure his wonder for the mystery of God. We as Christians see Jesus as fulfillment of all prophecy; the long-awaited Messiah. Our devout Jewish friends do not. And yet, through all this, Heschel helps us stay God-centered so that we as human beings are lifted toward divinity instead of allowing ourselves to slide into depravity.

Unfortunately, it is quite easy for us to lose our wonder. We risk getting numb to life and we adopt the “Time to make the donuts” mantra toward everyday life. We say things like, “Another day, another dollar.” We risk getting caught

FR. KEVIN'S GREGORIAN RANTS

Following the exchange of peace and forgiveness, the priest and the faithful begin to carry out two parallel actions.

The people, led by the choir, chant the Angus Dei, which may be better known as the Lamb of God. "Lamb of God, you take away the sins of the world, have mercy on us," is sung twice, followed by, "Lamb of God, you take away the sins of the world, grant us peace." I'll say more about Jesus as the Lamb of God in the next article.

Meanwhile, the priest or deacon retrieves the reserved hosts from the tabernacle that have already been consecrated. Upon returning to the altar, the priest breaks the large celebrant host (the one he elevated at consecration) in half, and then breaks off a small segment that he adds to the chalice. As he does this, he says quietly, "May this mingling of the Body and Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ bring eternal life to us who receive it."

This is an ancient practice. Back in the early Church, the pastor of every parish participated in the bishop's Mass and carried back to his parish church a small fragment of the Eucharist. During Mass celebrated at the parish, this fragment was placed into the chalice to remind the gathered faithful that they were united to their bishop and the other parishes of the diocese.

The comingling of the Body and Blood of Christ in the chalice is a representation of the reunited person of Jesus after the Resurrection. It's not Christ's broken and beaten body that won us eternal life, but his triumph over death and the resurrection that we can all share in.

The breaking of the host is an essential aspect of the Eucharistic feast. We see time and again that Jesus took, blessed, broke, and gave. The priest refers to this at consecration: "He himself took bread, and, giving you thanks, he said the blessing, broke the bread and gave it to his disciples." This breaking of the bread at Mass dates back to the earliest days of the Church.

You may wonder why the priest doesn't break the host when he says the words as a part of the Eucharistic Prayer. One, consecration at Mass isn't a dramatic reenactment of the Last Supper. Two, the purpose of the Eucharistic Prayer is offering thanks and praise to the Father, so dramatic gestures strip away the essential meaning of the rite at that moment.

Third, the bread is broken after it becomes Jesus, which at that point has not yet happened.

Note that the priest says "this mingling". While it's the same Body and Blood of Christ present to us at Mass, the Father has returned it to us with the prayers, intentions, and offerings from those celebrating at this particular time and place. It's not the holiness of the priest or the people offering the sacrifice, but that it is given over to Jesus to be united to him.

It always helps to refocus ourselves into the Mass we are celebrating now and where we are with God at that moment.

While the people kneel, the priest says the following prayers quietly with his hands folded: "Lord Jesus Christ, Son of the living God, who, by the will of the Father and the work of the Holy Spirit, through your Death gave life to the world, free me by this, your most holy Body and Blood, from all my sins and from every evil; keep me always faithful to your commandments, and never let me be parted from you."

The priest and the people take this moment to prepare to receive Jesus in the Eucharist. Although the bread is broken, we remember that it truly is Christ himself who feeds us. He is in no way diminished by being broken; we each share in the whole Christ.

PRO-LIFE ACTION LEAGUE

The Pro-Life Action League invites you to join the upcoming "Face the Truth" Tour, an annual pro-life public education initiative that reached tens of thousands of people with the reality of abortion.

From June 14-22, pro-life volunteers will hold signs at major intersections across Chicagoland, depicting the beauty of life in the womb as well as the horrible injustice done to the unborn victims of abortion.

The Face the Truth Tour changes hearts and minds, guides post-abortive women and men to healing and peace and saves babies from abortion. For more information on this powerful pro-life campaign, including the complete Tour schedule, visit ProLifeAction.org

TOP TEN REASONS FOR BEING A CATECHIST

(compiled by Joe Paprocki, National Consultant for Faith Formation, Loyola Press – Author and Catechist)

1. You will grow in your own faith, learn the teachings of the Church, and deepen your relationship with Jesus.
2. Your baptism calls you to share in Jesus' ministry.
3. Children, teens, and adults in today's world, more than ever, need to hear the good news of Jesus.
4. Children, teens, and adults in today's world, more than ever, need to encounter good role models of faith.
5. You have much to share with those you'll teach and you'll have opportunities to share faith with other Catechists.
6. Today's catechetical textbooks/resources offer outstanding support.
7. You'll be challenged, you'll have fun, and you'll make new friends.
8. You'll be helping young people deepen their relationship with Jesus. (You'll be evangelizing!)
9. You'll be handing over a 2,000 year old tradition that changes lives.
10. It's our job: Jesus sent us to "go and teach all nations".

"Go and Teach All Nations"

Recruiting Catechists for our Faith Formation Program is a year round process. We are always "on the alert" for faith-filled and generous parishioners who have a desire to share their faith with our young people. As we approach another year of faith formation beginning in September, we share the following thoughts on becoming a Catechist
